SCHOOL REPORT.

The following report is respectfully submitted to the citizens of the town of Enfield, N. H.; and the committee bespeaks a candid perusal, and charitable consideration of the same.

DIST. NO. 1.—ENFIELD.

First Department.—Summer. Teacher, Delia M. Yeaton. This school was in want of a rigid disciplinarian. Miss Yeaton soon brought order out of confusion. As was expected, she made this a model school. The final examination was highly creditable to teacher and scholars.

Fall and Winter Terms.—Both terms taught by Julia E. Flanders. The order both terms was nearly perfect. All who had a mind to study made good progress. Some have found fault. A few deserted the school. The committee has not ascertained any sufficient cause for such conduct. All who visited the school were pleased with it.

Second Department.—Summer and Fall Terms. Teacher, both terms, Linda M. Stevens. The school, my first visit, gave ample proof that a "reconstruction" of it was necessary. This, the teacher soon effected. Under her judicious management both terms of school were largely profitable. No one could have done better.

Winter.—Lizzie Webster, teacher. The little ones soon learned to love the teacher. The term was one of quietness and profit. Miss Webster did well.

DIST. NO. 2.—SHAKER HILL.

Summer.—Taught by Mary E. Huse. I was well pleased with this school. The teacher needs only experience and a little more self-confidence to constitute her one of the best of teachers.

Winter.—Teacher, A. E. Coleman. He seemed to love his work, and to be desirous of making the scholars understand every point in the lesson. I was not informed of the close of the school hence, am not prepared to say how profitable the school was. I deem him to be a good teacher.

DIST. NO. 3.—JONES HILL.

Two Terms, taught by Alice E. Day. None were more faithful than this teacher. She managed her schools nicely. Good progress was made. The neatness and quietness of the school room were pleasant features.

DIST. NO. 4.—EAST VILLAGE.

Summer.—Mary E. Edwards, teacher. This school was up to the average, but not quite what I looked for. The teacher seemed to work hard to make it a profitable school. My last visit, I noticed considerable improvement in many things.

Fall.—Taught by Emma Harriss. The scholars soon became like the teacher, wide awake. They learnt fast, and went thorough. Miss Harriss is a rigid disciplinarian, and one of our best teachers. She takes charge of the school.

Winter.—Teacher, Wm. H. Dorothy. This school I call the best of all the winter schools. He has no superior among all the teachers who have taught this year in our town. I visited the school twice, and was fully satisfied and profited. He made this a model school.

DIST. NO. 6.—EAST HILL.

Summer.—Taught by Emeline M. Jones. My visit to this school was satisfactory. The teacher was faithful in the discharge of her duties—loved by her scholars, and deserves to be regarded as a successful teacher.

Winter.—Teacher, L. F. Johnson. This teacher did well. Some made rapid progress—the rest fair. A teacher cannot furnish brains for her scholars. This was a good school.

DIST. No. 7.—OAK HILL.

Summer.—Teacher, Sarah M. Winship. This teacher labored hard to have a good school. Teaching in her own district made it more difficult. Some of the pupils did quite well—a few were restless, which injured the appearance of the school. Some of the scholars learnt well—made good progress.

Winter.—Mary E. Edwards, teacher. This was a good school. The order was satisfactory. All passed the final examination creditably to themselves and the teacher.

DIST. No. 9.—CAMBRIDGEVILLE.

Summer.—Taught by Julia E. Flanders. My three visits to this school, were increasingly pleasing to myself. It was a well managed and in the full sense of the word an excellent school.

Winter.—Teacher, Mary E. Huse. This also, was a profitable term of school. Miss Huse is an efficient teacher.

DIST. No. 10.—GEORGE HILL.

But one term of school. Teacher, Elon G. Sargent. This was a good school. He shapes well as a teacher. The government of the school was rather too lenient. Some of our best teachers fail in government. All should look well to this point.

DIST. No. 11.—ENFIELD CENTRE.

Summer.—Teacher, Mary E. Wilmarth. But few have better literary qualifications than Miss Wilmarth. She needs age and experience to be fully equal to such a school as this. She did the best she could, but the scholars, many of them, took some liberties from the fact that she was so young, and too lenient.

Fall.—Teacher, Abbie C. Cochran. High ground was taken and maintained by this teacher. She made it a model school. The mental arithmetic class was a gem. Most of the scholars had all perfect lessons, and were perfect in their deportment. The teacher deserves a high place in the esteem and confidence of all the families represented in the school; and of all others.

Winter.—Taught by Anna M. French. Miss French is a fine scholar, and has large experience in teaching; still, she failed of success in this school. She lacked government.

DIST. NO. 12.—NORTH END.

Summer.—Sarah W. Haskins, teacher. This teacher did admirably well; her school was well governed; and the results of the term of school were quite satisfactory.

Winter.—School under the charge of G. F. Pettingill. Mr. Pettingill is a quiet, but efficient teacher; prompt and earnest in his work. He merits great praise. The school under his care was greatly profited. All did well.

DIST. NO. 13.—CHURCH FAMILY, SHAKERS.

Both terms taught by Clotilda Kempton, aided by ———. The summer school was a "complete school." None stand higher in point of merit than this teacher. The winter term also, was one of profit. The services of this teacher are of a high order.

DIST. NO. 14.—E. W. GOVE'S.

Summer.—Taught by E. F. Stevens. This school was every way satisfactory. The teacher had not so good an opinion of herself, as others had of her. I wish I could say this of all teachers.

Fall.—Teacher, C. M. George. My first visit gave me the assurance that this term of school would be one of profit. As the school closed before I could again visit it, I can only say that Miss George gave entire satisfaction.

A new school house is needed in this district.

DIST. NO. 15.—WEST ENFIELD.

Both terms taught by L. G. Roberts. The summer school was an averagely good school; but I cannot say the same of the winter term. Evidently the larger scholars ruled the school—hence not profitable.

DIST. NO. 16.

One term, taught by Emma J. Sargent. I had no opportunity to examine this school—reason, sickness in the district. Visited it twice—examined the school house—think a new one is needed. Am told this was an excellent school.

DIST. NO. 17.—SOUTH END.

Both terms taught by Amelia R. Dresser. This teacher discharged her duties satisfactorily to the Committee, and the district. Both terms were profitable. This is an interesting school.

DIST. NO. 18.—BARKER FAMILY, SHAKERS.

Both terms were taught by Sally Ann Tucker, who is the oldest, and yet as young as any teacher we have. She is a successful teacher. She pushed her scholars ahead surprisingly.

CLOSING REMARKS.

I have made my report on the principle of equal justice to all. I wish I could give all a good report; but facts will not admit of it. The committee has tried to do his duty impartially. The schools generally, have been largely profitable. Those teachers who have, in any degree failed, can attribute their failure to a lack of "high-toned discipline" in the school-room. Weakness here is productive of weakness elsewhere.

I would render my thanks to all who have co-operated with me in the work of making our schools good schools. Let us strengthen what is weak; correct what is faulty; and work on hoping for grander and more perfect results.

WM. H. STUART, S. S. Committee.
